---

Hiatus House (the "Organization") is incorporated without share capital under the Ontario Corporations Act. The Organization provides a variety of services to abused women, child witnesses of domestic violence and male abusers in Windsor and Essex County. The Organization is a registered charity under the Income Tax Act and accordingly is exempt from income taxes, provided certain requirements of the Income Tax Act are met.

These statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

1. Significant accounting policies:

(a) Revenue recognition:

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions, which include government grants and donations.

The Organization is funded by the Province of Ontario in accordance with budget arrangements established with various ministries.

Operating grants are recorded as revenue in the period to which they relate. Grants approved but not received at the end of an accounting period are accrued. Where a portion of a grant is externally restricted to a future period, it is deferred and recognized in the subsequent period. These financial statements reflect agreed arrangements approved by the Ministries with respect to the year ended March 31, 2015.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Externally restricted contributions other than endowment contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are recognized. Contributions restricted for the purchase of capital assets are deferred and amortized into revenue on a straight-line basis, at a rate corresponding with the amortization rate for the related assets.

Endowment contributions are recognized as direct increases in the endowment fund balance.

Revenue from fees are recognized when the services are provided.

Pursuant to a Board of Directors' policy, memorial and estate donations are allocated from the unrestricted fund to the endowment fund.

1. Significant accounting policies (continued):

(b) Interest income:

Interest income earned on unrestricted and internally restricted resources is recorded in the statement of operations. Interest income earned on endowments subject to external restrictions is recorded as an increase in the fund balance restricted for endowments and is included in endowment contributions in the statement of changes in fund balances. Interest income earned on externally restricted resources is deferred and recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expense is recognized.

(c) Contributed materials and services:

The Organization periodically receives toys and miscellaneous items which are immediately passed on to residents. Contributed materials of this nature are not recognized in the financial statements.

(d) Capital assets:

Purchased capital assets are recorded at cost. Contributed capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution. Repairs and maintenance costs are charged to expense. Betterments which extend the estimated useful life of an asset are capitalized. When an asset no longer contributes to the Organization's ability to provide services, its carrying amount is written down to its residual value.

Capital assets are amortized on a straight-line basis using the following annual rates:

Building	4%
Computer equipment	33%
Furniture and equipment	20%
Automobiles	20%

(e) Use of estimates:

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Significant items subject to such estimates include the carrying amount of capital assets.

(f) Financial instruments:

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value on initial recognition. Freestanding derivative instruments that are not in a qualifying hedging relationship and equity instruments that are quoted in an active market are subsequently measured at fair value. All other financial instruments are subsequently recorded at cost or amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instruments at fair value. The Organization has not elected to carry any such financial instruments at fair value.

Transaction costs incurred on the acquisition of financial instruments measured subsequently at fair value are expensed as incurred. All other financial instruments are adjusted by transaction costs incurred on acquisition and financing costs, which are amortized using the straight-line method.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment. If there is an indicator of impairment, the Organization determines if there is a significant adverse change in the expected amount or timing of future cash flows from the financial asset. If there is a significant adverse change in the expected cash flows, the carrying value of the financial asset is reduced to the highest of the present value of the expected cash flows, the amount that could be realized from selling the financial asset or the amount the Organization expects to realize by exercising its right to any collateral. If events and circumstances reverse in a future period, an impairment loss will be reversed to the extent of the improvement, not exceeding the initial carrying value.

(g) Allocated expenses:

The Organization incurs expenditures related to administration that are not directly attributable to one aspect of the Organization's operations. These expenditures are allocated to each program based on the program's total funding and other related expenditures.
